Activity 3 - Part 2

1.) In the part where Rizal refused to support the revolution and not allowing his name to be used by rebels, this shows that he ~~was~~ just wanted to expose injustice and not to create violence. Even when offered freedom in exchange of his support, Rizal thought about the long-term consequences of the country and this proves he was true hero after he stood for peaceful reform and stayed to his principles.

Another part is where Rizal calmly walked to his death which shows bravery that he accepted consequences of his beliefs without fear. He stayed strong even people didn't cheer him. This should be considered him as our hero because he chose to stand for his country even he had ^{the} chance.

2.) Watching Rizal calmly and logically debate the Spanish Judge made me realize how colonial system fear intellect more than violence. His use of reason showed that knowledge is powerful form of resistance against oppression. This scene shows, in a colonized society, intelligence can threaten those in control.

Second part is where Rizal talked with Spanish priest, accepted their prayers without anger and showing forgiveness even in his last moments and respected other Spaniards who disagreed with him. This made me realize that compassion can exist in moments of pressure and injustice.
